

Web Support Analyst Assignment

Note that this test requires a local server environment to be set up. To make styling changes, edit the included global.css file. Good luck!

Debug:

- The HTML document contains several errors. Correct any issues that you discover.
- Do note that the paragraph in the footer should have a space above and below it. Adjust the CSS to correct this.

Customize:

- The header navigation items should be centered within their blue bar with equal spacing between each item.
- For the news section, each news release should have the Q4 Euroinvestor logo shown above each press release title.
- Reduce the number of news releases on the page to only show the 3 most recent items.
- Each news release should have shortened body text.
- Date format for each news release should match the corrected design.
- The paragraph within the footer should have its text made a bit smaller and italicized.
- The final result should look like the “corrected.png” image in the assignment folder.

Make Responsive:

- Using the following image as your guide, make this page responsive. This responsive styling should begin when the window is 768 pixels or lower. The final result should look like the “responsive.png” image in the assignment folder.

Submit:

- Upload the corrected files to a public Github repository and provide a link.
